

2018 NY Scholar Testimonial

Christina Nunez - Columbia University College of Dental Medicine and Mailman School of Public Health

I am truly humbled to be considered for the NHHF Hispanic Health Professional Student Scholarship. Although the campaign to eliminate Hispanic health disparities can be arduous, awards such as this one reassure me that I am championed by a cohort of strong and intelligent Latinx health professionals. I am sincerely grateful for these individuals, as they not only forged a path for me to follow, but they also continue their efforts by supporting me in my endeavor to care and advocate for Hispanic communities through a career in dental medicine, academia and community health.
